Feedback on East Ultreya - February 21, 2015

Contributed by sister Carminda Gutierrez - Verbum Dei Team

Verbum Dei was the host team for the East Ultreya on Saturday, February 21st at Queen of All Saints in Concord.

Sister Evelyn Isidro, the new East Ultreya Coordinator, with the able assistance of sister Clarita Perez, created an inviting and festive environment for the gathering by improvising and decorating a beautiful table into a mini-altar to honor Our Lord Jesus and Mother Mary, complete with flowers.

The Our Lady of Fatima team, led by sister Josie and brother Oscar Herrera, served a tasty meal of pasta, baked chicken and salad. And sister Cecile Cansino baked a delicious green "pandan" cake frosted with marshmallow cream, sprinkled with shredded coconut. Yummm! The Queen of All Saints and Holy Spirit teams helped with the set up and clean up that evening.

And oh yes, we had a very uplifting sharing. Our very own sister Nieves Buclatin was the witness talk speaker.

Since February is the month of Love, she spoke about her enduring and endearing marriage to her very patient and loving husband of 53 years!!! And would you believe, they married after a whirlwind courtship of 6 months!!

Sister Nieves' husband was perfect in every way --except -- on their first wedding anniversary, he made the mistake of going bowling!! Two thumbs down. 😞 Well, let's just say sister Nieves let him know how upset she was -- and he's never made that mistake again. Ever since then, he would start off their wedding anniversary day with a rose on her pillow to greet her when she opens her eyes and served her breakfast in bed. There were many ups/downs, health challenges, but they worked together as a team -- and as sister Nieves said -- they always put God in the center of their life. This must be the "secret" to a long marriage. As Deacon Albert Dizon said, the reason also was because marriage is a covenant -- and covenants are not made to be broken, unlike contracts. Sister Nieves put it more directly in her talk -- "No Return No Exchange" (sounds like a sign in a store!!). Congratulations to the happy couple!!

We then went around the room to celebrate the years of marriage for the couples present and the men were given a red rose, which they smartly gave to their wives, while telling everyone what they appreciated about each other.

Hearts were floating all over the room.

The Ultreya ended with announcements by brother Mario Camorongan who reminded everyone of FCC's upcoming events. He also congratulated his hard-working better half, sister Pat who did a great job as Ultreya Coordinator for three long years. And for the finale, he invited everyone to the 25th anniversary celebration of the Antioch Team at the Most Holy Rosary Church, after which Deacon Albert gave the group the final blessing. Watch for the new format of the next Ultreya and better yet, grace it with your presence.

LOVE.....

I am sitting here, my thoughts circling around the theme LOVE.

I want to write about love – about being a human being, about the feelings and emotions within me, about the feelings and emotions I project, about being a woman, about being a wife, about being a mother, about being a friend.

I want to write about moments I regard as gifts, perfect moments or worst moments.

I had experienced all kinds of emotions – love, hope, happiness, anger, jealousy, sadness.

I'm a person who refuses to be still. I'm a person who hopes for something different every time. No success satisfies me, no happiness hushes me. All the time, I am trying to change myself.

I live, rejoice, grieve, become angry and yet there is something within me that refuses to leave. There is always that LOVE in my heart that will always stay intact and will always be there.

It is a faint voice within me full of yearning, full of emotions, full of love, telling me....give out this love. You're full of love. Share it with others.

I don't want to heed it because I know, listening to this faint voice, I can sit and find peace.

With this peace, I can live with my family, with my friends, with my community.

LOVE, I know, conquers all the other emotions in me. I will continue to listen to this faint voice within me.

I will continue to LOVE.....Myrla Raymundo.

Hello, good readers of the Mariposa!

The reason why this Editor is busy collecting bits and pieces of news, writing/typing/proofreading, mass copying and emailing to our brothers and sisters is because the Mariposa can be an excellent vehicle for information to all Cursillistas. That is, a publication which serves the needs of the brothers and sisters cursillistas, put one in touch with others for purposes of spiritual growth, and is a good communication network.

Each of you who are reading this are hereby challenged to come up with some ideas on how to make our newsletter the most useful and interesting publication of its kind anywhere.

But don't just stop with that idea. Let us know what it is you can help us accomplish for the benefit of all of us Cursillistas.

So why not send those ideas to anyone in the Secretariat and let us all benefit from them.....Myrla Raymundo, MBA
